

Aleksei Chernulich

Durham University Business School
Mill Hill Lane, Durham City
DH1 3LB, United Kingdom

 www.AlekseiChernulich.com
 Aleksei.Chernulich@durham.ac.uk

Research Interests

Primary fields: Applied Microeconomics, Education Economics, Experimental Economics

Secondary fields: Behavioural Economics and Finance, Game Theory

Employment

2023 – to date Assistant Professor of Economics, Durham University
2019– 2023 Postdoctoral Associate, Division of Social Science, New York University, Abu Dhabi

Education

2014 – 2019 PhD in Economics, Department of Economics, UTS Business School, University of Technology Sydney, Australia
2012 – 2014 MA Degree in Economics, Department of Economics, European University at Saint Petersburg, Russia
2007 – 2012 Specialist Degree in Economics and Mathematics, Saint Petersburg State University, Russia

Publications

1. Entry and Exit Decisions Under Public and Private Information: An Experiment (with John Horowitz, Jean Paul Rabanal, Olga A. Rud, and Manizha Sharifova), Experimental Economics, Volume 26 (2023), pp. 339-356.
2. Price Volatility and forecasting Horizons: An Experimental Investigation (with Mikhail Anufriev and Jan Tuinstra), Journal of Economic Behavior & Organization, Volume 193 (2022), pp. 19-48.
3. Modelling Reference Dependence for Repeated Choices: A Horse Race Between Models of Normalisation, Journal of Economic Psychology, Volume 87 (2021), pp. 1-14.
4. A Laboratory Experiment on the Heuristic Switching Model (with Mikhail Anufriev and Jan Tuinstra), Journal of Economic Dynamics & Control, Volume 91 (2018), pp. 21-42.

Working Papers

1. Endogenous Tracking: Sorting and Peer Effects (with Romain Gauriot and Daehong Min), draft available upon request
2. Tie-Breaking Information Design: Transparency Reduces Revenue, draft available upon request
3. Does the Fed Say It All? Comparative Analysis of Public Communications and Private Discussions (with Mengheng Li and Eamon McGinn), draft available upon request
4. A Natural Experiment on the Value of Strategic Unpredictability: Sign Stealing in Baseball (with Romain Gauriot and John Wooders), draft available upon request

Work in Progress

1. Testing Mixed-Strategy Equilibrium in Games (with Romain Gauriot and John Wooders)
2. Crawler: An Experiment (with Yuki Tamura)
3. Dual Auctions: An Experiment (with Matt Van Essen and John Wooders)
4. Information Curse (with Olivier Bochet, Jeremy Laurent-Lucchetti, and Justin Leroux)

Refereeing

Economics of Education Review, Experimental Economics, Games and Economic Behavior, Games, Journal of Economic Behavior & Organization, Journal of Economic Dynamics & Control

References

Professor John Wooders
New York University Abu Dhabi
Social Science Division
✉ John.Wooders@nyu.edu

Professor John Ham
New York University Abu Dhabi
Social Science Division
✉ jch18@nyu.edu

Professor Mikhail Anufriev
University of Technology Sydney
Department of Economics
✉ Mikhail.Anufriev@uts.edu.au

Associate Professor Olivier Bochet
New York University Abu Dhabi
Social Science Division
✉ Olivier.Bochet@nyu.edu

Professor Etienne Wasmer
New York University Abu Dhabi
Social Science Division
✉ ew1555@nyu.edu